

Making a difference every day

2016 ANNUAL REPORT

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

2016 was quite a year for the Anglican Foundation of Canada. From ground-breaking projects to inspiring stories, 2016 was indeed memorable.

By imagining more, Canadian Anglicans made it possible to fund over $300,000 in building and project grants, $100,000 in student bursaries, and $40,000 for the Request-for-Proposals addressing the Truth and Reconciliation Calls to Action.

The Anglican Foundation remains committed to addressing changing times with strong and steady support for people of faith, progressive vision, and an innovative spirit. We are your reliable faith partner, doing things that matter most to you. Why? Because we believe in you. Because together, we can do more than we can ask or imagine!

To celebrate 2016, the AFC team has compiled this report looking back at some of the projects and moments that made this year quite remarkable. We extend profound thanks to many generous and dedicated Canadian Anglicans whose donations have helped hundreds of individuals and parishes achieve a dream.

Anglicans from coast to coast to coast are making it possible for AFC to be well positioned to offer generous support to Canadian faith communities and individuals as they think big and dream imaginatively into the future.

GRANTS

Building for the future

Throughout the Anglican Foundation's history, the majority of its grants have been dedicated to enhancing church infrastructure from coast to coast to coast. In response to leaky roofs, shrunken shingles, cracks in foundations, obsolete lighting, inaccessible entrances, outdated electrical fixtures, and lack of running water, AFC has always made bricks and mortar investments a priority. AFC understands that a grant, made at the right time—or just in time—can give a congregation the incentive it needs to move forward with worthwhile ministry, breathing new life into a development campaign through the knowledge that the Canadian church is supporting the local effort. And we see the results: church buildings are becoming more and more a hub of community life, holding people together as a meeting place, as they open their (accessible!) doors to the public.

In 2016, alongside applications for infrastructure projects, AFC received a number of applications for innovative ministry projects across the country. The grants listed provide just a glimpse of the amazingly creative ways that Canadian Anglicans engage in ministry to meet the needs of their local context.

TRUSTS

Generous Legacies

Since the early days of the Foundation, many Canadian Anglicans have left a gift in their will to AFC, making a significant contribution to the future sustainability of ministries that are meaningful to them. By making a legacy gift, these individuals have supported theological education, Canadian church music, Indigenous ministry and education, student exchange scholarships, liturgical arts and dance, and programs for seniors, youth, and the differently abled.

These gifts have benefited thousands of Canadians from coast to coast to coast—and have provided a tangible means for the donor's memory to live on into future generations. Some Canadian Anglicans have also made a significant planned gift during their lifetime, as part of their estate planning, so that they see the impact of their investment decisions.

ST. MARK'S ANGLICAN CHURCH

Norway House, MB

- Indigenous Spiritual Ministry of Mishamikoweesh

North of Lake Winnipeg is Norway House, a population centre with a neighbouring First Nation reserve of the Norway House Cree Nation. Established in 1906, St. Mark's Anglican Church is a vibrant community serving up to 2,000 people. An AFC grant assisted with costs associated with an expansion of the parish hall, a roof replacement, and the installation of commercial grade flooring for the purpose of accommodating more people, events, and activities.

BURSARIES

Leadership

If we ever needed resilient and reasoned leaders, the time is now. Leaders of today can no longer live in a time zone of yesteryear with nostalgic thoughts of what used to be. They need to be nimble and adaptable as they face the tectonic shifts in technology, communication, and access to information. They need to uphold diversity and inclusion, with a spirit of hope.

Donors to AFC are making it possible to train such leaders for the Anglican Church of Canada. With $100,750 in theological bursaries disbursed in 2016, donors assisted over 50 students all across the country. These students are enrolled in programs that will lead to ordination, chaplaincies, outreach, teaching, writing, and research.

AFC receives many thank-you notes from students, telling us how grateful they are to receive bursaries from the Anglican Foundation, easing the burden of family and educational budgets.

TESTIMONIALS

ROSEMARY PARKER

Huron College,
London, ON

For me, the Anglican Foundation theological student bursary is the funding that makes the difference! It freed me from worrying about my expenses. It allowed me to focus on my formation, my community, and on God. The bursary reminds me that the national church walks with me and my peers as we go through the intense and transformative seminary process.

TYSON RØSBORG

Montreal Diocesan College,
Montreal, QC

I am very grateful for the financial support of the Anglican Foundation, which helps to alleviate the financial burden of university education. This is my last year of academic study; next year I begin the year-long parish internship process. I am excited to see where Jesus and the Spirit will continue to lead me in my future ministry.

KAREN ISAACS

Wycliffe College,
Toronto, ON

I am a deeply grateful recipient of two Anglican Foundation bursaries. They have been a great help to me financially as I have worked to complete the educational requirements for ordination to the Anglican priesthood. I have really appreciated being able to study without feeling the added pressure of financial hardship.

ANDREW RAMPTON

Huron College,
London, ON

I express deep gratitude for the bursary from AFC. It not only assists with the cost of theological education but represents the faith and invaluable support of the wider Church. I am humbled by this support, both material and faithful.

ALLISON DEAN

Wycliffe College,
Toronto, ON

The AFC bursaries I have received have enabled me to pursue my theological education with a little less worry about how I would survive financially. This peace of mind, and the accompanying freedom to be a full-time student, is invaluable.

CHARLIE COX

Queen's College,
St John's, NL

Thank you for choosing me to be a recipient of an Anglican Foundation bursary. You have lifted some of the financial burden as I move forward toward ordained ministry. Thank you for all of your good work!

BENJAMIN GILLARD

Trinity College, Toronto, ON

Balancing finances to enable theological studies can be especially difficult for young students. The bursary I received from the Anglican Foundation has been critical for me during the last two years, ensuring I can afford to live while completing my studies. It's also been a wonderful reminder that we are part of the wider body of Christ, belonging not just to a parish or a diocese, but to a national church that invites us into communion with Christians throughout the country.

DOROTHY MILLER

Atlantic School of Theology,
Halifax, NS

The financial assistance provided through this bursary fills me with gratitude. I was self-employed prior to responding to God's call to leave my home community and move into residence at AST to undertake full-time studies toward ordained ministry. This meant I had to close my business, which left with me questions about how to fund my education costs. The bursary from the Foundation has been incredibly instrumental in assisting with these costs.

GEORGINA'S PLACE

Hay River, NT • Diocese of the Arctic

Located on the south shore of Great Slave Lake is the small town of Hay River. For 60 years, volunteers have dedicated themselves to the operation of a Thrift Shop, recently named Georgina's Place, which provides this northern community access to affordable clothing and household items and income for St. Andrew's Anglican Church. With a grant from AFC and additional revenue from the shop, running water, laundry facilities, and a restroom were installed.
